THE POLICE ROW.

Chief Campbell Assigned to a Beat on the Levee,

But He Stays Away From Roll Call and Fresh Charges will be Preferred—The Situation at the Four Courts—Who Will be Chief Next.

The police fight might be described definitely and truthfully as in situs quo. A dozen detectives, six captains, and the attaches of the department who find business or excuse for calling at the Four Courts, wear a look of patient expectation, while the mighty members of the Board are censusing and meeting with friends and advisors.

"Is the chief in?" an innocent interrogatory which usually receives its answer without even the compliment of a glance from the officers, now brings down on the stranger the most suspicious scrutiny of a dozen pairs of eyes. This morning was pay-day, but the Four Courts was a deserted appearance. Captain Campbell, the new chief, arrived about 9 o'clock, and to his inquiry was submitted the report of "ideal animals," "plugged fire alarm boxes," "ideal steel fire," "ideal men," etc., respectfully forwarded by the various captains with mounted messengers. When the omnipotent reporters were summoned to the boardroom for the chief's private office was made but the door was found locked and Capt. Hercules returned to the main office to transact the business.

At the main office it is taken for granted that Campbell has been finally done for by the Board, no matter what the courts may do in the premises, and the man who is to be is to be. It is generally admitted that Hercules' is only a temporary appointment, although Dr. Lutz would make it permanent if he were in his power. In the meantime the friends of Mr. Hayes and Mr. B. P. Heath are using all their influence in behalf of their respective candidates. The position of this master is as follows: Dr. Lutz is for Tammen, who is to be, and Mr. Hayes has no hope when, for polity sake, he may vote for another man. Woodward is undecided, but favors Lutz' suggestion at present, though he is very friendly with the new chief. Mr. Flanders switched off on politics and the situation; spoke in high terms of the new chief, and said he did not feel as if he could be unhappy unless he saw another Democratic President.

has expressed himself to his nearest friends as favoring the best man for the position, and has furthermore said that he believed Harrigan to be the best qualified man for the place. This detection will seem inexplicable to those who have been in the position in the Campbell fight. He has undoubtedly been the greatest sufferer among the Commissioners by the wrangle, and, although not a fit man to sit in judgment on Campbell, had good reasons of his own to urge him toward finding a verdict of guilty. Campbell charged Caruth with giving him to a sentiment of favoritism, and the latter, in his defense, repudiated the charge. Dr. Lutz, however, regardless of their fitness for the place, this morning will be the best man for the place. This Caruth denies. It has been urged against him at his cost, and seems to involve him as a principal in the wrangle with the chief against whom he, in his judgment at least, had the best reason for opposing him. It was this which induced him to sit with the Board, and he is now said to be willing to make the best appointment for the place, independent of the chief's wishes. During his trial, Mr. Hayes' defense showed no disposition to produce trouble in the department, and began many valuable improvements in the records. His friends are presenting his claims on the part of the Commission.

CAMPBELL'S BEAT.

This morning at 12 o'clock when the roll of the day was called at Central Dispatch, Campbell was called to the name of Officer John W. Campbell, and was marked absent without leave. At the next meeting of the Board this charge will be repeated by Dr. Lutz, as his duty, and the Board will have an opportunity to bring Campbell again. Capt. Fruchie, to whom the ex-chief was ordered to report, assigned him to the Chestnut Street Station, between Second and Olive, and Second street to the river. Campbell says he will never walk it.

Every body is waiting to see what action will be taken Wednesday in the Court of Appeals when Messrs. Dodge, Chamberlain and Joy will present the recent action of the Board to that tribunal.

Capt. Campbell called at headquarters this morning. The man who was to "John W. Campbell, Chief of Police," was stacked up for him at one side of the secretary's desk. After reading this he passed out through Central Dispatch, and a short while with the clerks. To a reporter who asked if he still retained the keys of the private office, he replied that he had and intended to keep them.

MERRILL'S INNOCENT.

City Treasurer Merrill this morning took the bit between his teeth and brought the trouble that has been brewing him and Dr. F. W. W. Campbell, the treasurer of the Board of Police Commissioners, to a head. It has been a toary for the Board of Police Commissioners to lay out every day pay an ancient carriage which seats five people and a driver. It is the property of the Board, and the equipment is generally in the City Treasurer's office but that official decided to enter it. He sent back word that he had a bugle and a sword and would go around and pay off the men who were in the carriage and the Commissioners. He had concluded to abandon the payment of the men in cash, and had substituted the check system. A few days later Sam. W. Merrill, the Mount Police Stables came along and seeing that Mr. Merrill was determined to go around it, he offered to drive him in his buggy. Mr. Merrill accepted and a run was made through the stations on a schedule time. The checks were delivered to the men and their receipts taken as for the mony for which they were told that their checks would be cashed at the Board of Police office at the City Treasurer's office. The men demurred among themselves at the necessity of the extra trip to get their money. Mr. Merrill says that he took the men advisedly and will keep up the present plan of paying.

The Temperance Crusade.

The Rev. John A. Brooks, president of the Prohibition State Alliance, will open the lecture campaign in favor of the cause at the First Christian Church of this city on the evening of January 8th. A lecture will be given in all the more prominent churches and halls of the city, during the campaign. Ex-Gov. Charles P. Johnson, J. M. Adair, W. F. Swigert, L. J. Atwood, Van Bennett and other distinguished prohibitionists will aid the cause by visiting Kansas City, St. Joe, Hannibal and other large towns in the State with the view of having the temperature question fairly submitted to the voters of the State at the coming gubernatorial election.

FROM FAR ARIZONA.

A Chat About Mining and Indians with an Arizona Miner.

Mr. J. Eugene Flanders, a genial, jolly, gray-haired New Yorker, was consigning baggagene to everlasting disagreements at the Lindell when a Post-DISPATCH reporter ran in on him. He has been mining at Globe, Arizona, for two years past.

"Yes, I am taking a 'tip home,' he remarked. "I ran up to San Francisco, and I have not seen for many a long year, and I tell you it has picked up since old mining days. I shall stop a day here to see a friend, then for Chicago and home. Mining in Arizona, what do you ask? Well, it isn't what I cracked up to be. There has been some speedore ore taken out, but the one on the surface is not so rich, but the copper and the coker and other necessary material for smelting is so high that there is little profit in it. Not much money has been made at mining in Arizona. The copper is not worth a continental. It is a fine country, though, with a fine climate. I left my mother there, and I never have enjoyed such good health in my life. In future it will make a good mining country, the grazing is good."

"The Indians are quiet, are they not?"

"Yes, only a few people have been killed this year."

THE EVANGELICAL ALLIANCE.

Meeting of the Local Ministers at the Y. M. C. A.

The Evangelical Alliance met this morning at the rooms of the Y. M. C. A. Among those present were Drs. Tardieu, Lewis, Williams, Hall, Theodore, Clifton, Adams, Black, Post, Rhodes and others. By a unanimous vote the Rev. Joseph Foy, D. D., was elected to preside over the meeting, which was opened with the usual devotional exercises. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. The following subject was suggested as a topic to be discussed: "The Bible is the final authority for all religious truth," to be opened by Rev. Joseph Foy. Much discussion followed the suggestion of the topic. Dr. Rhodes said that he did not wish the subject discussed in that light. It was this which induced him to sit with the Board, and he is now said to be willing to suggest as made by holding his head to the side of the pulpit. Dr. Foy, however, thought that it was a self-evident proposition needing no discussion. Rev. Guy Waters, in a few words, said he had heard with the greatest satisfaction the words of Dr. Foy. Dr. Foy then suggested that the Bible was not the final authority on these matters, he personally did not know where the Alliance could look for authority. Dr. Foy then said that the subject of faith and doctrine, the Protestant energy were without any doubt. Dr. Foy was seen and expressed his willingness to swear that McEntire was not at the cause as Knudsen had learned that the warrant was out and came to the Court with John A. Nies and gave bond in the sum of $500. It will take some time to get this out. Dr. Foy said, "I'd like to see McEntire come up here and swear that he wasn't at that cause. Before next week I'm going to have one of these follow up here giving bond, you can depend on it."

Ed. Butler was seen and expressed his willingness to swear that McEntire was not at the cause as Knudsen had learned that the warrant was out and came to the Court with John A. Nies and gave bond in the sum of $500.

SHAKY TACTICS.

An Attempt to Create Discord in the American Association.

The New Cincinnati Grounds—Sporting Sundries—Diamond Chips—Turf Topics—Personal, Gossip and Chat-Chat.

The man in Cincinnati has developed extreme bitterness, and was foreshadowed in the Post-Dispatch, if it is continued it can do base-ball interests there or elsewhere no good. The latest move on the part of the Union Association organ, the Examiner, is ridiculous in the extreme and is set forth as follows:

"The statement made in yesterday's Enquirer that there was a movement on foot among some of the clubs in the American Association to make war on the guarantees of dividends receipts in favor of the Union plan now in vogue in baseball is no record. That such steps have been taken there is little doubt; and there is every encouragement to believe that such a movement is in progress. There is no denying the fact that at least seven and a half out of eight of the twelve clubs in the American Association, this plan would be the most advantageous. These receipts derive from the entrance of a home club, which should receive careful study from every professional player.—[Commercial-Gazette.]

SEDUCTIVE SMILES.

A Commercial Traveler Elopés With a Miserly Belle—His Deserved Family.

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch.

MORLEY, Mo., December 31.—It has been ascertained here that Miss Belle Boyd, whose mysterious disappearance from this city three weeks ago dazzled the minds of society people, has closed with H. Reed, a traveling salesman for some St. Louis firm, and who it is rumored, has a wife and several children living in Louisville, Ky.

Smith Brown and John Cullen were jailed on charges of petit larceny. James Graves was committed to answer for assault to kill.

On a charge of embezzlement, August Gosenbrot was arrested to-day.

THE New Cincinnati Grounds.

Regarding the new grounds of the American Association club at Cincinnati the Commercial-Gazette says: "The contract for the erection of the new buildings and fences on the Cincinnati Club's new grounds will be let to-morrow. It will be given to either Henry H. Behrens or Chas. Smith, who were the lowest bidders. The bids were made upon plans and specifications drawn by Chas. Graehey, architect, and the buildings will be precisely what his plans call for. We are able, therefore, to give our readers this morning exact date concerning the new buildings."

"There is no exaggeration in the statement that when completed they will be the finest base-ball stands in the West, not excepting those at St. Louis. The actual seating capacity is as follows: Grand stand, 1,000; grand, 1,000; unreserved seats, 2,200; total, 4,200. These are actual figures and not newspaper guess work. The Bank street grounds last year seated between forty-three and forty-four thousand, the entire season, and the southwest corner of a Western avenue and Findlay street. At that place will be a handsome frame building forming a sort of vestibule to the stands. Sliding doors will open upon vestibule and the entrance inside at each end will be ticket-offices. The turnstiles—three—will be set into the inside wall of this building. One leads to the uncovered seats, one to the grand stand, and the third to the entrance, the entrance and approach to each place being entirely separate. After entering the grand stand the visitor will ascend six or seven steps, while bringing him up to the grand stand the stairs are of stone. Opening from this level is the entrance into a ladies' handsome toilet room, containing a stationary washstand and all conveniences. The room will constantly be occupied by the wives of the players. In the grand stand are a directors' room and reporters' room on a level with the diamond and right behind the catcher. On the west side of the grand stand and back of it, and back of the partition is a row of seven private boxes, each seating four people. All three of the divisions have separate bar and close accommodations. The grand stand is completely roofed off from all places where refreshments are sold.

"The seats will be much wider apart than those of the Bank street grounds, being two feet and three inches back of the grand stand. Everything is to be done in the first-class order. The fence on Western avenue will be of dressed stone and painted. These buildings will cost $8,700 to which sum will be added the cost of the new stands similar to those at the Bank street grounds for $4,200, but they resolved to do twice as well by their patrons, and erect such stands and provide such accommodations of building will be commenced within a fortnight. There will be extra exit gates on Western avenue and Findlay street, by which the crowds can leave without walking up to the turnstiles gate."

The Enquirer made says: "On the eve of St. Louis team is one of the strongest in the country, and will come pretty near carrying the championship pennant next season." This painful circumstance will more fully appreciate by a morning column.

Mr. Gowen and son of St. Louis left a team of horses and wagons standing in front of Wolf's saloon on Washington street, Boston.

Mr. Gowen, a member of the St. Louis Club, has written a paper on the St. Louis fine for 1884, and it was published Friday in the Post-Dispatch. It is needless to say that the article is masterly in its style and argument.—[Commercial-Gazette.]

President A. G. Mills of the League has done more for the good of professional baseball than any other man in the United States. He is and always has been the brains of the League. Even in the days of the lamebrained Hubert, Mr. Mills was the power behind the scenes. He has carried forth the ideas and Mr. Hubert fathered them. It is, however, safe to say that three-fourths of all the League legislation ever passed has been the brain child of Mr. Hubert, though until after Mr. Hubert's death he kept himself well in the background. He seldom makes mistakes, and never boasts vaunting. His interview with the base-ball editor of the Commercial-Gazette, an editorial master, should receive careful study from every professional player.—[Commercial-Gazette.]

There is no denying the fact that at least seven and a half out of eight of the twelve clubs in the American Association, this plan would be the most advantageous. These receipts derive from the entrance of a home club, which should receive careful study from every professional player.—[Commercial-Gazette.]

The man in Cincinnati has developed extreme bitterness, and was foreshadowed in the Post-Dispatch, if it is continued it can do base-ball interests there or elsewhere no good. The latest move on the part of the Union Association organ, the Examiner, is ridiculous in the extreme and is set forth as follows:

"The statement made in yesterday's Enquirer that there was a movement on foot among some of the clubs in the American Association to make war on the guarantees of dividends receipts in favor of the Union plan now in vogue in baseball is no record. That such steps have been taken there is little doubt; and there is every encouragement to believe that such a movement is in progress. There is no denying the fact that at least seven and a half out of eight of the twelve clubs in the American Association, this plan would be the most advantageous. These receipts derive from the entrance of a home club, which should receive careful study from every professional player.—[Commercial-Gazette.]

WANTS TO SETTLE.

The Chinese Government Anxious to Adjust the Tonquin Difficulty.

The Concessions She Will Make From the Original Proposition—A Pulpit Stomped at Vienna—Excitement in Ireland—Cable Flashes.

LOWDON, December 31.—The Times has the best authority for stating that China wants peace, and that France will return to her original policy in Tonquin, and abstain from further hostile action on the Red River and the Pacific. An agreement is almost certain. China will abate some of her first pretensions if France will show a conciliatory spirit. The Government of China, seeing that all the countries well disposed towards her are desirous of a settlement of the question, whether or not Tonquin is a Chinese dependency, is ready to recognize as fact the independence of Tonquin, and negotiate upon a basis of status quo. But the establishment of this position involves the cessation of further naval and military movements beyond our military defenses, and above all, an understanding that Box Ninh must not be assaulted. So much China is prepared to concede. If France responds to her well-meant concessions, she will not stop to consider how far her present attitude may tally with her original position, when she is fully informed of the full letter of her rights.

THE NORTHERN BANK

of the main navigable branch of the Red River represents the no plus ultra of the Chinese concession. China believes she can secure her rights as effectually with Quang Tenu, Bac Ninh and

Lai Kai in her possession, as France with the Hainan, Haizhou and Hainan N.

The question of the permanent retention of Tonquin should be submitted to the arbitration of a third party. The triumph of the anti-foreign party in Pekin is an indication of China's desire for peace being sincere. The powers interested should offer this mediation collectively. If there is any hesitation in any quarter on this point the right of intervention rests in the hands of the United States, which Government is bound by the terms of the Burlingame Treaty to offer her good offices whenever China requests them. Should Prime Minister Ferry of France respond to the wishes of the Chinese embassy, the present occasion will afford an opportunity of giving effect to the stipulations hitherto unenforced.

Mr. Byrnes of Brooklyn introduced a resolution in the Senate to provide that the Chinese should be allowed to keep their concessions in the same manner as the United States and the other powers.

It is, however, safe to say that the Chinese will not be satisfied with this.

A HAPPY New Year to all!

WILL the New Year see the old bridge toll taken off from our commerce?

The Board of Police Commissioners wish everybody an unhappy New Year.

The Police Commissioners are evidently determined to call another meeting of citizens.

The country is happy in the thought that it has a President whose Prince Albert coat is a faultless fit.

The New Year will be a happier one for St. Louis if we get a new Board of Police Commissioners.

An appropriate present from JAY GOULD to the City of St. Louis would be a fair schedule of freight rates.

YAZOO has been a name of bad omen from the Yazoo land steal of eighty years ago to the Yazoo lynchings of Saturday night.

If the ring succeed in "downing" Chief CAMPBELL it will be in order for the citizens of St. Louis to express their opinion.

POLICE COMMISSIONER WOODWARD may write back to his friends in New York, "Come out to St. Louis; they appoint mighty men to office here."

SENDING the ex-Chief of Police to patrol the Levee before it is certain that he is not Chief is about as dirty a piece of spite work as malice could suggest. But it was done with a cheerful alacrity that suggests how congenial such work is.

IN taking testimony as to the character of the prisoners on trial in the BOND case, every witness was asked to tell what was the reputation of the prisoner "for truth and veracity." Is it possible that in the State of Illinois a man's reputation for truth may be good, while his reputation for veracity is doubtful?

THE HEADS of departments in Washington are hard at work trying to dispose of the surplus. They represent that the great need of the country at present is an additional number of clerks and an increase in department expenses. There are people who believe that fewer clerks and reduced expenses would be the proper thing.

SAN FRANCISCO journals are very indignant at the hissing of LOTT in London and are at a loss to account for it. They should consider that LOTT's pure character is not as highly appreciated abroad as at home, and that while she is to us the same little girl she was many years ago, the London hoodlums saw in her nothing but old maid with girlish ways and a youthful kick a world too high for her shrunk shank.

UNDERGRADUATES have begun to appear in private theatricals at Oxford, with the permission of the Vice Chancellor and without any serious protest from the British Cabinet. We dread the effect of this democratizing example on our American colleges. Young men whose minds are distracted by literary and artistic diversions, rarely ever master, with thoroughness, the usual college course of athletic games, rowing, etc.

A MEETING is to be held at the Park Commissioner's office Wednesday to take measures to protect the city trees. It is to be hoped that some improvement on the present method will be suggested. This method is to keep the leaves carefully covered with a layer of limestone dust to the depth of a sixteenth of an inch. When the dust is rendered corrosive by an admixture of soot it protects the leaf very effectively from the sun and air, but the result is not generally satisfactory.

A BENEVOLENT gentleman named S. NEWTON PETTIS of Meadville, Pa., is starting a LINCOLN boom. PETTIS claims the credit of having swing the Pennsylvania delegation for ABRAHAM LINCOLN at the Chicago convention, and this claim is rendered credible by the circumstance that the claim was recognized to the extent of getting a mission to Bolivia. In justice to himself Mr. PETTIS should publish a card renouncing any aspirations on his part to a foreign mission this time.

CHAIRMAN MORRISON of Illinois has made a bad break in suggesting that the duty on sugar should be removed. The immediate result of this would be a transfer of the amount now paid on sugar from the treasury of the United States to the treasury of the sugar-growers. The Sandwich Island job has shown us how the sugar business can be manipulated, and while it is bad enough to have a little ring of San Francisco speculators enriching themselves by their tariff on sugar, it is not as bad as it would be to see some of our foreign Spanish-American countries doing the same thing.

THE YAZOO TRAGEDY.

Negroes have but recently been executed by mobs in Lawrence, Kansas, famous for its bigoted adherence to the Republican party. The pride of that community was its record for freedom-shaking and its "man and brother" theories. The negroes were few and the whites many there. No struggle for political ascendancy had embittered the races against each other, or broad feuds liable to produce collisions between the races. Yet within a year negroes have been hung by mobs there, as in other Republican communities, and while nobody was punished for it the negroes were not strong enough to avenge it, or even to make a fuss about it. And no Republican organ made a fuss about it for them, because such outbreaks in such a locality cannot be twisted into a shape that will fire the heart of the North against the South, or revive the languishing fierceness of party passion.

But it is time that Southern communities had learned that a different rule applies to them. The massacre of three white men and the fatal wounding of one or two more in Yazoo City on Christmas eve by what appeared to be a premeditated attack from a body of armed negroes occupying a butcher shop was immediately seized upon as an occasion for a new bloody shirt howl from the Republican organs, and the Globe-Democrat editorially announced it thus:

The usual criminal killing has begun in Yazoo County, Miss. Turkeys are scarce down there this year, and the boys have their fun. It made no difference that the boot was on the other leg, and that an outrage had been committed by negroes in Yazoo City which would have aroused the white people of any Kansas town of the same size to frenzy. It occurred in Mississippi, and was therefore spoken of as a murderous attack of whites upon blacks. Here was an opportunity, however, for the Yazoo people, which they passionately threw away. If they had left the law to take its course, as the families of the slaughtered men implored them to do, the truth of the affair would have been their vindication and a rebuke to the rising howl for another "bloody shirt" campaign in 1884.

But having acted as many a Northern community and forty or fifty enraged white men having broken into jail and hung four negroes, they will not hear the last of it nor cease to hear tales about it till the next Presidential election is over.

His assertion that Mrs. Colton was allowed the full value of the Southern Pacific securities she was clearly entitled to has been shown to be false, by the evidence submitted at St. Rosa. It was clearly proven there that four days after Stanford, Crocker, Hopkins and Huntington, the Southern Pacific Company agreed to pay a debt to the Western Development Company with Southern Pacific bonds on a basis of 90 per cent. Elmer Mrs. Colton was outraged in the transaction or the bonds appraised 30 per cent in four days.

SENDING the ex-Chief of Police to patrol the Levee before it is certain that he is not Chief is about as dirty a piece of spite work as malice could suggest. But it was done with a cheerful alacrity that suggests how congenial such work is.

GERMANY and France have both prohibited the importation of American pork under the pretense that some of it is diseased. We have proved that American hogs are less affected with disease than German hogs, but Germany persists, because the prohibition is in the line of BISMARCK's protective policy. France has acted, or pretended to act, upon M. PAUL BERT's misrepresentations of Prof. DETMER'S statements in regard to diseased meat in this country, and although M. BERT stands convicted of falsehoods, the probability is that France, like Germany, is only seeking a pretext to favor home producers. But we can easily teach both nations that the great American hog is not to be trifled with in this way. On the same ground that some of it is poisonous, we can prohibit the importation of nearly everything that comes to this country from Germany and France as food, drink or medicine. In one cargo of the adulterated wines, liquors, sweetmeats and table oils imported from France, there is more of disease and death than in all the hogs slaughtered in the United States in a year. A list of the deadly dyed and cosmetic France sends us would be appalling. We have the means of a very effective retaliation in our hands, and the time for trying its virtue on Germany and France seems to have arrived.

THE SIMPLE truth is that there is a majority of Northern men on each and every one of the House Committees, except those on Revision, Ventilation and District of Columbia, and the three principal ones are headed by MORRISON of Illinois, RANDALL of Pennsylvania, and CURTIN of Pennsylvania. MORRISON's committee has eight Northern and five Southern members; RANDALL's, eleven Northern and four Southern; CURTIN's, nine Northern and four Southern. The same general proportion is preserved in the North through all the important committees. The Committee on Invalid Pensions is composed of Union soldiers, with the exception of J. D. WISE, who is a Readjuster, trailing with MAHONE and the Republicans. The only Southern or Border State men on the War Claims Committee are a Louisiana Republican and a Virginia Readjuster. Nine of the thirteen members of the Military Committee, not counting Delegate MAGINNIS of Montana, were Union soldiers. The fact is that Speaker CARLISLE made a special effort to place all matters growing out of the war in the hands of Northern committees, and all the Stalwart lying that has been done to excite sectional jealousy is like raising the cry of wolf when everybody can see that it is only a harmless mouse.

THE people of St. Louis who have paid a hundred dollars for a pumping engine of doubtful value are entitled to a full and fair explanation from the Board of Public Improvements of the circumstances under which good money was paid for bad work. We know that the Board was compelled to accept the alt-alt, but we do not understand why it was that the worthless machine was not discovered until five months after the time it should have been in working order. We do not know whether the machine will ever do its work or not; nor do we know how much money will be spent on it in the attempt to get it to work. It looks as if there must have been looseness in the specifications or incompetence in the inspection when any contractor under any circumstances is permitted to make the city a take a piece of machinery which is not fit to do the work it was designed for.

JUDGE McCRARY has followed the example of his immediate predecessor, Judge DILLOX, and resigned the Judgeship of the Eighth United States Circuit to enter the service of a railroad (the A. T. & S. F.) as its general attorney. The judicial salary is only $6,000, which is perhaps less than one-fourth the salary he will get from the railroad. Nobody has doubted the integrity of either DILLOX or McCRARY, but it is one of the worst scandals of public life in this country that these dazzling prizes of railroad employment dangle continually before the eyes of our judges, legislators, governors and attorney-generals. HUNTINGTON, in his COLTON letters, referred to Senator GORDON of Georgia as "one of our men," and soon afterwards GORDON resigned his Senatorship to accept a railroad position which in two or three years made him a rich man.

HUNTINGTON's letters reached Washington by mail in the San Francisco Chronicle before the telegraph got hold of them, but the moment HUNTINGTON opened his mouth to explain and palliate, the Associated Press gave universal circulation to every word he uttered, including an outrageous falsehood about the COLTON suit. The Chronicle says:

His assertion that Mrs. Colton was allowed the full value of the Southern Pacific securities she was clearly entitled to has been shown to be false, by the evidence submitted at St. Rosa. It was clearly proven there that four days after Stanford, Crocker, Hopkins and Huntington, the Southern Pacific Company agreed to pay a debt to the Western Development Company with Southern Pacific bonds on a basis of 90 per cent. he is of his brain?

A BAD SUBJECT.

How the Scheme of a Blackmailer and Her Accomplice Failed.

The latter in the Role of an Officer—He Now Looks Through the Bars of a Station House Cell—Their Intended Victim.

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, December 31.—The house at No. 48 West Twenty-sixth street, is a four story brown stone building with a low stoop, and is set back from the street behind a square patch of garden. J. C. Kimball, the owner, resides in a part of the house, and leases the remainder. Among Mrs. Kimball's tenants is Mrs. G. Levere, a beautiful woman with a Roman nose and long yellow hair. Mrs. Levere occupied a room on the second floor of the house. On Friday morning Mrs. Levere rang for a messenger boy and sent the following letter to Mr. Wm. Wall, at No. 43 Park avenue, one of the most extensive rope manufacturers of the country, and a man of wealth:

"BILLY WALL—I want you to be here at my house between 8 and 9 o'clock. You are not here by that time you will be arrested, with your friends. If you want to keep out of trouble and keep the matter quiet you had better come and nothing will be done to you. Answer."

Mrs. G. LEVERE.

"No. 48 West Twenty-sixth street." Mr. Wall is a handsome young man and a man of means. He is a native of the city. He said yesterday, before Justice Murray, in the Yorkville Police Court, that he knew nothing of Mrs. Levere's house and that he was utterly ignorant of having dined with her. He said he had not even been to see her. He went, however, to the house and met Mrs. Levere, who insisted that he had been at the house on the previous night; that he had dined with her and the furniture had been left, and had knocked everything upside down. Mrs. Levere demanded an exorbitant price for her broken furniture, which Wall refused to pay. Mr. Levere called for some one in the audience.

A DARK COMPLEXIONED young man, it is said, stepped out of one of the adjoining rooms, and, placing the hands on Mrs. Levere's shoulders, said, "Now, you pay the lady, and all will be quiet," and upon a refusal from Mr. Wall, the stranger threw back his coat and displayed a badge, and said, "I am an officer, and he who is an officer of the law and would arrest me, will be arrested." Wall refused, and was marched out under the charge of his guardian, who brought him towards Broadway. Wall, however, was sent to Captain William Pendleton, who met Mr. Wall and the officer replied, "Because you will have to go to police headquarters." Mr. Wall was taken as far as the Giesen House, and there the "officer" and his attendant, marsh street and brought his captive into a liquor saloon. Both of the men went into one of

THE PRIVATE APARTMENTS of the station, which is said to be the office of the station, where he drew a revolver, and, placing the muzzle to his prisoner's forehead, said:

"How easy it would have been for me to shoot you if you had attempted to run away."

Mr. Wall acknowledged this fact, and considered that he had been acting in the interest of justice as he had arrested Wall. And this he knew about the trouble between Mrs. Levere and Wall was that the former had told his master that Wall had broken her furniture. The explanation did not satisfy Justice Murray, who held Wall in $1,000 bail. The walls are well known across the big bridge, where the family first came into prominence. Beginning life in an humble way, he has, by his own energy and diligent application, expanded his works and soon monopolized the manufacture of cordage in that section. Plain in dress and in manners, as wealth accumulated he refused the amanuensis of his family to remove from the old house in Williamsburg, preferring

A LIFE OF COMPTON to the care and anxiety of the customs of fashionable cities. When Williamsburg and Brooklyn were consolidated the elder Wall was Mayor of the latter city, in which he always manifested a great interest. He entered the business of insurance, and, in course of time, established the ferries and building up several banks, insurance companies and horse-car lines. At his death he left a fortune of $1,000,000, and, after much persuasion, the parents consented, and a paternal residence was selected on Park avenue.

COTTON SHIPPERS' CLAIMS.

Prospective Suit Against a Railroad Involving $1,500,000.

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, December 31.—It is reported that considerable activity and interest prevails in New England cotton circles over the result of an action to be brought in the Supreme Court against the New York Central and Louisville and Nashville companies, as members of the White Line, for cotton claims arising out of the fraudulent transactions of one of its agents, The Blue Line, a syndicate of several cottons, one alone, or more popularly known as boycotting, recently settled a claim of a similar character, culminated by this precedent, in that the parties involved in the case, after much persuasion, agreed to employ the same tactics in the settlement of the claims against the White Line.

The C. B. & Q. Determined to Fight the Pacific Roads to the Bitter End.

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, December 31.—Speculation as to the probable outcome of the prospective conflict between the Western roads continues with unabated interest. In certain quarters the suggestion of open warfare is ridiculed as the product of newspaper imagination and a run on the part of Wall street speculators to pull down the price of stocks, alleging that while occasional difficulties may arise among competing companies, which may at times assume all the elements of open hostility and inaugurated for the purpose of some concealed effect, yet they are not prepared to plunge into a senseless conflict with their competitors, the only result of which would be serious injury to most of the contestants.

"The fact of the matter is," said a prominent railroad man, "who is close to the Vandebilt's, yesterday, the Union Pacific road has been uninterrupted controlled for its system to Colorado they made a compact with the Denver and Rio Grande, made bid for the traffic between the Missouri River and the Colorado, and the tenth of the Union Pacific people. The Burlington and Quincy folks are in a position to take advantage of this advantage when it is presented, they have been informed, of good authority, that they have resolved to determine the battle without the interference or aid of the Northwestern and Missouri Pacific."

—about the agreement reported to have been made?"

"That was a bait intended for the Burlington and Quincy, but which it refused to take. I tell you, he has the key to the Colorado roads and means to hold it. The fact that the Rock Island subsequently gave force to from that post is the result of my characterization of the alleged agreement.

"Do you anticipate severing cutting of rates?"

"I see nothing else but a sharp fast-lane bill the moment comes the future of its prolongation. One thing certain to be accomplished will be a general reduction of rates. And this," he continued, "is only the beginning of a series of such quarrels as are now made under the two systems. In many of the established posts there are mutterings of unfairness in the award of percentages, so much so that it would require but little aggravation to cause an open rupture."

GEN. GRANT'S FINANCES.

The Ex-President Better Situated Than Most People Think.

WASHINGTON, December 31.—One of Gen. Grant's friends, who has recently returned from New York, says the ex-President will probably be confined to his bed for some time, his late fall having caused a lesion of the muscle in his hips. The friend says the General is doing much better financially than the public reports give him credit for. He has not been a spectator upon the street for over a year. He is now

ONE OF THE LARGEST STOCKHOLDERS in the banking and brokerage houses of New York, Gould & Co. He has no intimate relations with Mr. Gould for over a year, and some people go so far as to say that he and Mr. Gould are not so friendly as they were in the fall. The General, with the severe reverse he encountered a year or more ago, Yet one time the ex-President was seriously embarrassed financially. His friends rallied about him, however, and extricated him from his financial difficulties, and he had enough left to invest with the firm mentioned above. This establishment is well, and the General now and will probably remain so, has foreseen general speculation. He is very much interested in the political canvass of next year, and it is probable he will take an active part in it.

Mr. Taylor, "Engineering Mr. Taylor," is the man of the hour.

ARTHUR H. HARRISON, open to his nomination.

DOCTOR WHITTIER
617 St. Charles Street, St. Louis, Mo.

A regular graduate of two medical schools, has been longer engaged in the treatment of Chronic Diseases, than any other physician in the city. His practice is limited to the treatment of Chronic Diseases, as city papers show and all old residents know. Consultations at office or by mail and personal visits to patients are given.

When it is inconvenient to visit the city for treatment, Dr. Whittier can be consulted by mail. Curable cases guaranteed; where doubt exists it is transferred to the best specialists.
